1. So far, we have discussed several mechanisms for generating rhythmic activity in the brain. Do you think the timing of neural activity can have a specific function?