1. Two connected neurons are often described as “communicating.” If neurons were to speak to each other in words and sentences, what role might rhythms play (pacing of words, ordering, sentence structure, etc.) in helping neurons communicate?